SpiceJet to Unground 10 Aircraft by Mid-April 2025

Including Four Boeing 737 MAX Planes, Enhancing Fleet Strength and Expanding Network

SpiceJet will unground 10 aircraft by mid-April 2025 further strengthening its network and operational capabilities. These will include four Boeing 737 MAX planes.

This initiative will significantly increase the current fleet size of 28 aircraft, even as some aircraft are redelivered to lessors during the same period. SpiceJet added 10 planes to its fleet since October 2024, comprising three previously grounded aircraft brought back into service and seven inducted on lease.

Over the past three months, SpiceJet's network expansion strategy has resulted in the addition of more than 60 new flights, further enhancing connectivity and service options for its passengers.

Ajay Singh, Chairman and Managing Director,

SpiceJet, said, "Our plan to bring 10 aircraft back into service by mid-April is a reflection of SpiceJet's unwavering commitment to its growth and operational excellence. SpiceJet is on a strong path to recovery and growth, and we remain focused on providing reliable and affordable air travel to millions of Indians."

Last month, SpiceJet signed an agreement with StandardAero Inc., a leading US-based engine MRO, for the restoration of its grounded MAX fleet. This agreement followed successful partnerships with CFM International, Inc., the OEM for LEAP-1B engines, and a key lessor, paving the way for the un-grounding and return to service of three Boeing 737 MAX aircraft.

In the past two months, SpiceJet has resolved disputes with several major lessors and partners, including Export Development Canada, Engine Lease Finance Corporation, Babcock & Brown Aircraft Management, Aircastle (Ireland), Wilmington Trust SP Services (Dublin) Limited, Shannon Engine Support Limited among others demonstrating its commitment to operational stability and growth.

STARTING THE YEAR WITH PURPOSE

A heartfelt visit to The Earth Saviours Foundation

There's something truly special about starting the year with a heart full of kindness. It brings peace and satisfaction, knowing that every small gesture of help can make a meaningful impact. Just imagine, if kindness became a daily habit for all of us, how much better could our world be?

As the new year unfolded, we chose to begin it with compassion and a commitment to community care. Our journey started with a visit to The Earth Saviours Foundation (TESF), an NGO that has become a lifeline for those facing unimaginable hardships. More than just an initiative, it was an opportunity to connect, uplift and reflect on the power of kindness.

About The Earth Saviours Foundation

Founded in 2008 by the late Karmayogi Shri Ravi Kalra Ji and now led by his son Sh. Jas Kalra, TESF provides shelter and support to over 1,200 individuals, including abandoned seniors, homeless people with mental disabilities and victims of domestic violence. Offering free accommodation, food, medical aid and daily necessities, TESF is a beacon of hope for those who are often forgotten.

A day of spreading joy

Our visit was filled with heartwarming moments as our team planned a series of activities to bring smiles to the faces of the residents. Dancing, singing and engaging performances lit up the day, creating a joyous atmosphere that resonated with the spirit of togetherness.

It inspired us to carry forward the values of empathy, compassion and hope into the new year, committed to making a positive difference.

Here's to a year of connection, compassion and collective growth!

POWERFUL VASTU CORRECTIONS WITHOUT ANY DEMOLITION

FOR INDUSTRIES, OFFICES & HOUSES

Internationally Renowned Vastu Expert Vimal Jhajharia, along with his son Vikas Jhajharia, has created a revolution in the field of Vastu Shastra. Their expertise in providing 'Vastu Remedies without Demolition' has earned them the faith and praise of millions of people in more than 40 countries across the globe.

Vimal Jhajharia and Vikas Jhajharia (MBA from Australia) have delivered many lectures, conducted workshops, seminars and have widely travelled and provided consultancy on major projects already in operation without any changes or modifications. They are currently providing consultancy in the USA, UK, Australia, Canada, China, Hong Kong, Singapore, Thailand, South Africa, UAE, and South America, among others.

Both of them have been felicitated several times for their outstanding knowledge on Vastu & have also won several awards of national and international repute.

Awarded in Dubai "The most Influential Vastu Expert under 50 years"

Awarded TIMES OF INDIA "Times Icon of the year 2017"

Awarded by Kangana Ranaut in Thailand "The Best International Vastu Guru"

What exactly is your famous Vastu Shankha Yantra and how cost effective is it?

Based on the principles of Vastu, the Vastu Shankha Yantra is an original conch shell used to potentially rectify any kind of land, Vastu or energy defects without making any modifications. It can potentially save a lot of time & money as it is used to create positive energy in places having major Vastu defects without changing the looks and beauty of the place.

and relationships of a person

Vastu is protection against unforeseen circumstances.

It is used to increase personal energy in health, wealth

Does the Vastu Shankha Yantra really work for prosperity in factories and industries?

Yes, we have a big list of successful clients including businessmen, entrepreneurs, doctors, scientists, professionals, architects, interior designers, etc giving testimonials on our website. Endorsing the Vastu Shanka Yantra is industrialist Sushill from New Delhi. He says, "My son and lare running a factory but were not getting the desired results. We came to know about Vimalji and Vikasji through one of their articles in inflight magazines. Upon showing them the factory, we immediately realised our north was blocked and all the heavy machinery was placed along the north wall. We then got the Vastu Shankha yantras placed at certain places on Jhajharia ji's recommendation. Now, every new factory of ours is made under their able guidance and we also recomend them to all our friends and

Can Vastu Shankha Yantra also help in selling a property?

Yes, we do a lot of Vastu correction for builders and developers and also individuals whose properties have been stuck for a long time and which are not getting sold because of some or the other Vastu defect. Vouching for success is Satish from Bangalore who was trying to sell his four acres property for two years. When we saw the property, we saw it had multiple corners & it was not a proper rectangle or a square. We then positively charged this property by placing our Vastu Shankha Yantras in various corners to help correct the magnetic field of the property and hence creating positive energy in the atmosphere

February, the shortest month of the year, is also the perfect time to celebrate love of all kinds, be it a fondness for exploring new places, or the desire to let time pass you by as you sit with a hot cuppa beside the river. Whether it's a spontaneous staycation or a long-awaited solo trip, it creates moments more special than gifts and flowers. Here, we bring you experiences you can indulge in, to make memories of a lifetime.

MAGIC OF STARGAZING

Astro-tourism is the new buzzword as travellers seek encounters of the starry kind. And it's not necessary for one to head off to far-away Iceland or Norway. In fact, in 2024, the Northern Lights, that most magical of sights, was experienced right here in Ladakh. As India wakes up to this new trend, astro-enthusiasts and tourism stakeholders are curating special tours to let people embrace the magic of gazing at celestial bodies in the night sky. Because nothing can beat the romance of sitting under a starlit sky with your partner, and being swept away by the mesmerising sight of bright stars and myriad galaxies up above.

Uttarakhand, Himachal Pradesh, Rajasthan, Karnataka and Nagaland boast some great destinations for stargazing, while the remote village of Hanle in Ladakh is the perfect place to find the astronomer in you. Hanle also houses the Indian Astronomical Observatory, among the highest observatories in the world. Its idyllic setting and clear skies place it among those rare destinations where even the midnight view can take your breath away.

SLOW TRAVEL: THE NEW NORMAL

A latecomer for sure, but travellers are gradually warming up to the idea of 'slow travel'. Signalling a paradigm shift from action-packed itineraries, people are now taking holidays just to relax and loosen up. You can 'go slow' in Ko Samui in Thailand, while back home, the Western Ghats, Varkala beach and the backwaters in Kerala, and the charming homestays in the North East and Puducherry are just right for unwinding.

It's all about connecting with your soul. Even in Goa, India's party hotspot, there are now properties that cater to guests seeking sanctuary from the hustle and bustle. For example, at Mansao Curtorim, an intimate boutique heritage property in south Goa, time seems to pause as you surrender to the charms of its luxuriant green surrounds. Boasting plenty of open space, and architecture that takes you down memory lane, it's a place that promises the most rejuvenating holiday ever. In fact, India today is dotted with many such stays, where one can feel truly rested and refreshed. With no must-do lists, guests can explore the local culture, spend time reading a book or just watch life pass by.

EXPERIENCES OVER DESTINATIONS

As clichéd as it might sound, the journey (read experience) is often more rewarding than the destination. In 2025, curated travel experiences, local flavours, and community activities are at the top of travellers' lists. The country's Northeast is known for its exclusive experiences—consider a visit to Mawlynnong in Meghalaya, the cleanest village in India, or a day tour to Keibul Lamjao National Park in Manipur, the world's only floating national park. Meanwhile, in the temple towns of South India, the wildernesses of Madhya Pradesh, and regal splendour of Rajasthan, lie experiences waiting to be embraced. Then there's Varanasi, the oldest city in the world, Rishikesh and its spirituality, Barsana and its colourful Holi—and so much more.

Travel curators and community platform such as Postcard Travel Club have realised that holidays today need an appeal more compelling than the destination, hence the focus on theme-based vacations. Guests can choose hyper-local and immersive experiences, like walking down an apricot orchard in Ladakh or exploring the beautiful silk-weaving hub of Sualkuchi in Assam, the world's largest weaving village. Indeed, it is such experiences that make every traveller fall in love with life, and leave a lasting impression on their minds •

HAND VIETNAM'S TREASURED SECRET

PAMELA MUKHERJEE

Each morning, I found myself drawn to Hoàn Kiếm Lake, the heart of Hanoi. Here, history meets life in motion. Locals performed Tai Chi in perfect harmony with the rustling leaves, and joggers circled the lake as the sun rose

One morning, a man paused his stretches to tell me the story of Hoàn Kiếm's legendary sword, returned by emperor Le Loi to the Golden Turtle. His narration was both captivating and soothing, and I realised then that

A morning dawn at the West Lake of Hanoi Vietnamese woman selling

Hanoi's magic isn't just in its sights but also in its people, who so readily share their culture and stories.

A MOMENT OF REFLECTION

As much as I loved the city's bustling streets, it was Hanoi's quieter corners that stole my heart. The Temple of Literature, Vietnam's first university, was one such place. Dedicated to Confucius, this ancient sanctuary of knowledge felt like stepping into another world.

I spent an afternoon wandering its courtyards, listening to a local guide speak about the exams once held here to select scholars for royal service. His pride in Vietnam's academic history was palpable, and I couldn't help but be moved by the reverence this city has for education.

Still, sometimes, travel isn't about doing; it's about being. That's exactly what I experienced at the One Pillar Pagoda, an iconic structure perched atop a single stone pillar amidst a lotus pond. I found a spot nearby, sat down, and did nothing. No photos, no plans just stillness. The sound of temple bells mingled with the occasional chirp of birds, creating a peaceful symphony. In that moment, I felt connected—not just to Hanoi but to myself. The pagoda, a symbol of enlightenment and simplicity, reminded me of the beauty in pausing and simply being present.

What truly amazed me about Hanoi was how safe I felt, even as I walked through the city at night. The bustling Old Quarter, alive with street vendors, laughter and lights, never felt overwhelming. And when I ventured into quieter alleys, I was met with calm and friendliness. One evening, after a hearty bowl of pho, I wandered aimlessly along dimly lit streets. I wasn't looking for anything in particular, just savouring the freedom to roam. There's something liberating about being in a city where you feel not just welcome but protected—a rare gift for a solo traveler.

A CULINARY JOURNEY

Hanoi's food was as comforting as its streets. My first taste of phở was unforgettable-its broth rich and aromatic, with hints of star anise and a touch of ginger. I devoured it on a small plastic stool, surrounded by locals slurping with gusto.

The city's street-food culture is legendary, and I was eager to dive in. A vendor introduced me to bún chả. grilled pork served with rice noodles and fresh herbs. As the smoky aroma of the charcoal grill filled the air, her husband proudly mentioned how even Barack Obama had enjoyed bún chả during his Hanoi visit. It's those personal touches, those snippets of pride, that make Hanoi's food so much more than a meal-it's a story on a plate.

CONVERSATIONS OVER COFFEE

Hanoi's cafés are perfect for unplanned encounters. One afternoon. I ducked into a tiny coffee shop in the Old Quarter and ordered a cà phê trứng egg coffee, a local speciality. The first sip was divine, like a sweet, creamy hug.

The café owner, a woman with silver hair and an infectious smile, joined me at my table. She shared stories of Hanoi's transformation over the decades, from the French colonial era to the modern hustle. "Hanoi changes," she said with a twinkle in her eve. "but it always keeps its soul." The name of the café is Café Giảng, where a bartender named Nguyễn Văn Giảng invented cà phê trứng in 1946. My egg coffee turned into a historical journey.

The more I walked, the more I found that Hanoi's Old Quarter is a maze of narrow streets, each named after the trade it once represented. I strolled through Hàng Gai, the street of silks. and Hàng Bac, the street of silver. Though much has changed, the essence of these streets remains intact.

In one shop, I found a hand-painted ceramic teacup—a simple but meaningful souvenir. Outside, a street artist captured the chaotic beauty of the Quarter with vibrant strokes. He invited me to see his work, and in his art. I saw the spirit of Hanoi: vibrant. resilient, and undeniably charming.

EVENINGS AT THE NIGHT MARKET

Weekends in Hanoi are for indulgence. The night market was a sensory overload of lights, sounds and smells.

> I nibbled on skewers of grilled meat, browsed stalls filled with handmade trinkets, and soaked in the lively atmosphere.

That Saturday evening, I also attended a traditional water puppet show. The puppets danced gracefully across the water, narrating tales from Vietnamese folklore. Even without understanding the language, I was captivated by the artistry and the cultural pride on display.

SYMPHONY OF TIMELESS CHARM

Vietnam's capital wears its history with pride. Founded over a thousand years ago, this city has seen empires rise and fall, from the Ly dynasty to French rule, and it carries those legacies in its architecture, its streets, and its spirit. Walking through Hanoi felt like flipping through the pages of an old, cherished book, each chapter more captivating than the last.

Clockwise from Top:

Vietnam's iconic landmark, the One Pillar Pagoda

The street food in Vietnam presents a burst of delightful flavours

Indeed, Hanoi was more than a destination—it was an experience, a feeling, a memory I'll always treasure. From the tranquil mornings by Hoàn Kiếm Lake to placid moments at the One Pillar Pagoda, from hearty bowls of phở to heartfelt conversations with locals, Hanoi gave me so much more than I expected.

As I boarded my flight back home, I carried with me not just souvenirs but a deep sense of gratitude. Hanoi had welcomed me with open arms and given me stories to tell, flavours to remember, and moments to hold close to my heart.

For anyone seeking a getaway that's equal parts enriching and grounding, Hanoi awaits. Trust me, you won't just visit-you'll belong •

WELLNESS, ELEGANCE, AND SUSTAINABLE GLAMOUR FOR HER

Wellness getaways

In today's fast-paced world, a wellness or spa retreat is the ultimate gift of relaxation and self-care. For your lady love, choose a destination spa by a seaside resort offering Ayurvedic treatments, or a serene countryside retreat specialising in yoga and meditation. Personalised wellness programs, including massages, detox rituals, and skincare consultations, ensure she leaves feeling rejuvenated and cherished - do look for couple deals to be a part of this self-love journey. This indulgent escape will be an unforgettable treat for her to unwind and reconnect with herself.

All-things-sparkling and vintage It's almost impossible for a lady to resist the charm of fine jewellery or vintage accessories. Opt for sparkling diamond earrings or a solitaire, a statement necklace studded with brilliant natural diamonds featuring her favourite gemstones, or a simple bracelet watch embellished with gold or gems. If jewellery is not her thing, consider gifting a piece of vintage art or an heirloom that resonates with her fine taste and lifestyle. A thoughtfully commissioned artwork or a rare antique piece of décor or history, which is meaningful as much as beautiful, will impress her for eternity. Such gifts are not only tokens of love but also investments in timeless collectibles whose sentimental value is always appreciated.

Sustainable yet luxurious fashion

If you are in love with someone who expresses herself with fashion, yet keeps her carbon footprint in check, you have to go an extra mile to find a gift that combines style and ethical craftsmanship. A good idea would be to choose a luxurious cashmere shawl, a handcrafted designer handbag made in vegan leather, a bespoke sari, or a dress crafted by artisans. Opt for timeless designs that she can wear on special occasions, ensuring her wardrobe remains versatile and elegant. These pieces will not only enhance her personal style but also reflect a commitment to sustainability.

So, whether planning a bespoke holiday, selecting timeless jewellery, or curating sustainable fashion, the key is to choose items that reflect mindfulness and individuality. These gifts go much beyond and ensure that this Valentine's Day becomes a celebration to remember • ational Science Day in India is observed on February 28 every year to mark the discovery of the Raman effect by Indian physicist Chandrasekhara Venkata Raman, or Sir C.V. Raman, as he is better known.

A scientist renowned for his work in the field of light scattering, Raman and his student K.S. Krishnan found that when light passes through a translucent object, it refracts and changes its wavelength. They called this dispersion of light 'modified scattering,' and the phenomenon subsequently came to be known as the Raman effect, or Raman scattering. C.V. Raman made the discovery on February 28, 1928, for which he was awarded the Nobel Prize in Physics in 1930, the first Asian or non-White individual to be recognised thus by the Royal Swedish Academy of Sciences.

National Science Day was proposed by the National Council for Science and Technology Communication (NCSTC) in 1986, and from the following year, 1987, the government agreed to set aside February 28 as a day dedicated to the promotion and celebration of science.

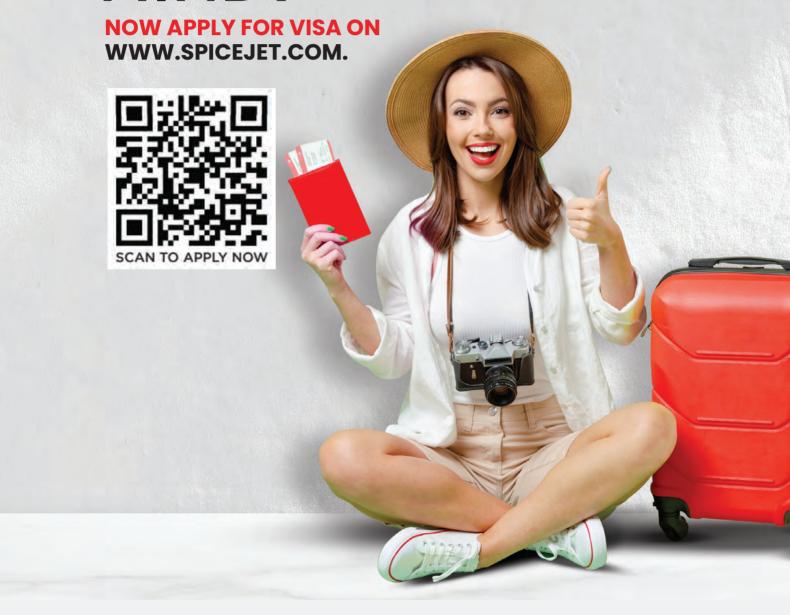

On National Science Day, schools, colleges and universities across India, as well as scientific, technical, medical and research institutions, organise activities on and around science and technology. On this spring day, organisations both public and private help popularise this diverse subject by spreading awareness about its significance in the everyday lives and well-being of Indians, by honouring endeavours and achievements in the realm of science, and by encouraging Indians to embrace a scientific temper •

As one of the youngest CEOs of a leading financial firm, did you choose finance as a career or was it vice-versa?

Finance wasn't my first choice, but it was definitely the best one for me. With a dual degree in computer science engineering and economics from the University of Pennsylvania, I began my career at McKinsey & Company. However, finance soon resonated with my analytical skills and passions. A stint at AQR Capital Management, a leading global hedge fund, deepened my love for the financial world and equipped me with valuable experience in quantitative analysis and asset management. At 24. I co-founded Forefront Capital Management, embarking on an entrepreneurial journey. The path wasn't easy - I have faced rejections, that definitely shook my confidence temporarily. However, those setbacks became stepping stones for growth. Today, as the CEO of Edelweiss Mutual Fund, I'm proud to lead a team driving growth and innovation. Finance has become a purposedriven journey, shaped by challenges. opportunities, and constant evolution.

A 'Diplobrat' as your Instagram profile mentions, how did growing up in different countries and amidst myriad cultures influence you and your career choice?

My father was an Indian Foreign Service diplomat, and so I grew up travelling the world due to my father's overseas postings. This exposure to diverse cultures shaped my adaptability, resilience, and ability to connect with people from varied backgrounds. These experiences sparked my curiosity, taught me to embrace change, and gave me a global perspective, qualities that have been invaluable in my career. They also influenced my decision to pursue finance, where adaptability and cross-cultural understanding are crucial for success.

Tell us a little about your entrepreneurial journey?

For me, entrepreneurship is about seizing opportunities, driving innovation, and creating meaningful impact. In 2009, I began my entrepreneurial journey by co-founding Forefront Capital Management, entering the asset management space. Building a brand in the highly regulated finance industry as a young professional was both challenging and rewarding.

In 2014, Forefront became part of Edelweiss Financial Services, and I joined Edelweiss Mutual Fund. Since then, our AUM has grown from Rs. 6,700 crore in 2017 to over Rs. 1.40 lakh crore as on November 2024. We launched pioneering products like the Bharat Bond ETF and seamlessly integrated JP Morgan Mutual Fund into Edelweiss.

IT'S YOUR A YOUR FUTURE - OWN IT

says Radhika Gupta

FLORINA SOREN

The ultimate advice to one and all as we step into 2025. As Managing Director and CEO, Edelweiss Mutual Fund, Radhika Gupta has always been vocal about why financial decisions are important for everyone. Among the youngest CEOs of India, she is a leading voice when it comes to investments, setting financial goals, entrepreneurship, and a lot more. Here, she talks about her childhood as a 'diplobrat', her fascination for sarees, India's start-up ecosystem, work-life balance, and her love for ghee dosa.

With father Yogesh Gupta

We saw you as a judge in Shark Tank Season 3. How was your experience meeting so many young entrepreneurs with so many innovative ideas?

Being a judge on Shark Tank India was an incredible experience. As an investment professional, I focus on numbers and market potential, but what I loved most was the personal connection - their stories, passion, and drive.

I value entrepreneurs with a balance of confidence and humility, agility, and a deep understanding of their business. The show offered a frontrow seat to India's innovative spirit, inspiring me with the energy and ideas of these young visionaries.

What is your take on the start-up ecosystem in India at this moment?

India's start-up ecosystem is experiencing exponential growth, with disruptive innovations in sectors like Fintech, Edtech, and Healthtech. Opportunities abound, from improved funding access to mentorship and government support.

However, challenges like scalability and infrastructure persist, especially for women entrepreneurs who face funding barriers. Platforms like Shark Tank are helping address this gap, and with more role models and success stories, I'm optimistic about the ecosystem's continued growth.

You always advocate financial literacy among women. When and how does a young working woman begin with her investment journey. A few tips to live by?

The best time to start is now. Women excel at saving but need to grow their wealth by turning savings into investments for financial independence. Take charge of your finances instead of relying on a male family member. Start simple with mutual funds and gradually explore other options.

My advice: don't overcomplicate. Set clear goals, stay consistent, and leverage the power of compounding. It's your money and your future - own it!

Tell us a little about the Radhika Gupta, we don't know. Your lesser-known fascinations, your likings and interests?

I love food, travelling to different Indian cities, exploring local markets, buying sarees, trying different cuisines, and engaging in conversations. I also enjoy poetry and, occasionally, cooking.

Speaking of sarees, I've collected over 300 of them from across India. Many are gifted by my fans or acquaintances, some are heirlooms over 100 years old, and I even restore vintage sarees into modern quad sets. I have an entire cupboard dedicated to my saree collection!

Your son is still very young. Your mantra for work-life balance?

For me, work-life balance is about finding joy in the "beautiful chaos." Whether it's travelling for work with my son or managing meetings with him by my side, it's about embracing my roles.

At the end of the day, I'm not just a CEO or entrepreneur - I'm also a mother. Sometimes, one role takes priority over the other, and navigating those choices is both challenging and rewarding. Blending these worlds is what makes life truly fulfilling.

Do you like travelling? What kind of holidays do you like - itinerary packed or a peaceful time-out?

I used to prefer packed itineraries, but now I enjoy peaceful getaways - quiet destinations, nice resorts, family time, and moments of peace, like savouring breakfast and sipping coffee. These days, I balance these peaceful moments with my son's energy. Holidays for him are packed with amusement parks and play areas, while we also make time for vacations that are just for us.

What is your favourite cuisine?

My favourite foods are quite varied. When I'm in Chennai, I love ghee dosa, and in Amritsar, it's dal makhani and Amritsari kulcha. I'm a big fan of simple ghar ka khana! Meals like jeera rice, yellow dal, and parathas. Growing up in Italy, pasta with tomato sauce and good cheese is also a favourite of mine.

You are a saree lover, we are told. Some interesting anecdotes you would like to share?

Sarees have been a significant part of my identity since my teenage years. When I joined Shark Tank India, I made it a point to showcase sarees in a modern yet traditional way. One of my favourites was the rupee saree, which gained a lot of attention. For me, wearing sarees is more than fashion; it's about celebrating India's textile heritage and encouraging young women to embrace it as well.

Last but not the least, what are your Top 3 investment tips for 2025?

Stay balanced amid volatility, and have realistic expectations of investment returns, especially after the strong performance of recent years. Also, prioritise liquidity - it's crucial to keep your options open and adaptable •

My Town

In our series, we travel to various Indian destinations with a SpiceJet family member. This time, Vaishnavi – Cabin Crew – takes us around her home city, Jhansi.

Tell us something about Jhansi that makes it so special?

Jhansi, in the southern part of Uttar Pradesh, is a place imprinted in every proud Indian's heart. Recognised for its important role in the Indian Rebellion of 1857, it is forever linked to the legendary Rani of Jhansi and her unwavering courage. The iconic Jhansi Fort, a testament to valour and resilience, stands as a proud symbol of the town's extraordinary legacy, and embodies its spirit of determination.

What's the one thing about your hometown that makes you come back, again and again??

What draws me back to Jhansi time and again is the genuine warmth and heartfelt generosity of its people. No matter how ever much time has passed, the town's deep-rooted connection to its vibrant culture and traditions always makes me feel at home. Each visit becomes a profound reconnection with my roots, as though the town itself is embracing me. The celebrations, especially during festivals like Dussehra and Navratri, are truly unforgettable. Every festivity is steeped in joy, further deepening my bond with this remarkable place.

Which is the perfect hangout spot in Jhansi?

The iconic Jhansi Fort! Beyond its rich historical significance, the fort offers breathtaking views and a serene atmosphere, making it an ideal location for a leisurely outing with friends or family. Another must-visit is Rani Mahal, a royal palace where one can explore the local history while admiring its exquisite architecture. For nature enthusiasts, Barua Sagar Tal (lake) makes for an idyllic escape, complete with opportunities for scenic boat rides and peaceful reflection. Lastly, St. Jude's Shrine presents a retreat that's a balm for the spirit, perfect for those seeking solitude and a deeper sense of connection.

MS. VAISHNAVI TIWARI CABIN CREW

Name a restaurant you would recommend to a visitor, and a not-to-miss delicacy on the menu?

I highly recommend Chulhewala restaurant to anyone travelling to Jhansi! Renowned for its delightful ambience and authentic local flavours, this place is a must-try. A standout delicacy on the menu is their Chulhe ki Roti paired with Dal Tadka: the freshly prepared roti, cooked in a traditional clay oven, wonderfully complements the rich and aromatic dal, creating a culinary experience that is truly out of this world!

What is the best season to visit your hometown and why?

Jhansi is best experienced during the winter months, when the weather is comfortingly pleasant, making it perfect for sightseeing. This season also brings cultural vibrancy, with events like the Jhansi Mahotsav featuring captivating performances, local handicrafts, and traditional exhibits that showcase the city's diverse heritage. The festive atmosphere, combined with the scenic beauty of its historical landmarks, offers visitors just the right blend of culture, history, and relaxation.

Which are the must-visit places in Jhansi?

Garhmau Lake is an oasis, a welcome respite from the bustle of the city. Its tranquil atmosphere and breathtaking views make it ideal for a relaxing boat ride, or for unwinding amidst nature. Tatya, boasting idyllic landscapes and a timeless charm, guarantees an authentic glimpse into rural life. This picture-postcard village is a must-visit for anyone keen on experiencing the cultural richness and natural allure of the Jhansi countryside

FEW SPOTS FOR A QUICK DAY-TRIP OUTSIDE JHANSI

Orchha (Madhya Pradesh): A picturesque town celebrated for its stunning palaces, temples, and the gently flowing Betwa River. With its architectural marvels, and the Chaturbhuj Temple (dedicated to Lord Vishnu), a visit to this destination is highly recommended for the many attractions it offers, promising a perfect blend of culture, history, and natural beauty.

Datia (Madhya Pradesh): Famous for the magnificent Bir Singh Palace, and Pitambara Peeth – a revered temple and pilgrimage site – Datia offers a unique combination of historic landmarks and spiritual vibes, making it the ultimate day trip – short yet enriching – from Jhansi Sukma Dukma Dam: Celebrated for its lovely vistas and serene surroundings, this dam presents a restful escape for lovers of flora.
