Move between market caps for more opportunities.

Choose Flexicap funds that aim to benefit from opportunities across large, mid and small caps.

A Flexicap fund has the flexibility to invest across large, mid and small cap stocks. This unrestricted nature of the fund enables the fund manager to pursue multiple investment opportunities across the market and tap them regardless of their size. Since they provide exposure to a broad equity spectrum i.e across market caps and sectors, it leads to a well-diversified portfolio striking a balance between risk and returns in a single portfolio.

To know more, speak to your mutual fund distributor/financial advisor for more advice on how flexicap funds can be part of every portfolio.

DEAR READERS,

Welcome aboard SpiceJet!

Wishing you a wonderful year ahead filled with joyful journeys and meaningful milestones. As we step into 2025, the aviation sector is poised for unprecedented growth, and at SpiceJet, we are thrilled about the opportunities that lie ahead. With renewed energy and a steadfast commitment to innovation and customer-centric service, we are ready to reimagine the skies once again. We deeply value your trust and support and look forward to welcoming you aboard for many memorable flights this year.

SpiceJet made a strong comeback in 2024, defying sceptics once again. Through determination and innovation, we overcame challenges and successfully raised ₹3,000 crore through a Qualified Institutional Placement, enabling us to take bold strides forward.

Our focus on innovation and inclusivity shone through with initiatives like gender-neutral announcements and sign language-trained cabin crew, setting new standards in customer experience. We reaffirmed our commitment to redefining aviation and contributing to a better society.

A warm welcome to all the devotees flying with us on our special daily flights to Prayagraj for Maha Kumbh 2025!

From 12th January to 28th February 2025, our special daily flights to Prayagraj from Delhi, Mumbai, Bengaluru, Jaipur and exclusive non-stop flights from Ahmedabad ensure that devotees from across India can partake in this once-in-a-lifetime event without any travel concerns.

With nearly 200 flights and over 13,000 pilgrims served during our special Haj operations, SpiceJet proudly played a pivotal role in delivering seamless and spiritually enriching travel experiences. This year, SpiceJet is proud to be a part of the Haj pilgrimage once again, making necessary arrangements to carry over 15,500 pilgrims on our dedicated flights from Kolkata, Guwahati, Srinagar, and Gaya.

As we look ahead, 2025 promises to be an exciting year for SpiceJet 3.0. The groundwork for fleet expansion, route optimisation, and innovative service delivery is well underway. By the end of Financial Year 2025, we aim to operate a robust fleet of 36 aircraft, scaling up to 70 aircraft by the close of Financial Year 2026.

We remain steadfast in our commitment to enhancing our network, adopting cutting-edge technology, and elevating service delivery. SpiceJet's sustained efforts toward financial stability and operational resilience have been acknowledged with a credit rating upgrade of four notches, reflecting our progress and commitment to excellence.

We remain deeply grateful for your trust and unwavering support. At SpiceJet, every milestone we achieve is inspired by our commitment to serving you better. With exciting developments on the horizon and our continued focus on innovation, safety, and exceptional service, we look forward to welcoming you onboard and creating many more memorable travel experiences. Here's to soaring higher together in the year ahead!

Wishing you a remarkable and fulfilling year ahead in 2025.

Why you have left for another world

Why you have left for another world
I still remember the way you hold a book, on interrupting you used to give a hard look.
when I look into the mirror, I am reminded of your smile.

I wish for once you come back and stay for a while.
I still remember when I first hold your finger, I was few months.
I still remember when I first call you papa, I was 2 months.
I remember when I started school, you cheered me up.

I remember when I finished kg, you geared me up.
I still remember when I had my first loaf, I was three.
I was running recklessly and broke my knee.
You are still my guide who taught me never to hide.

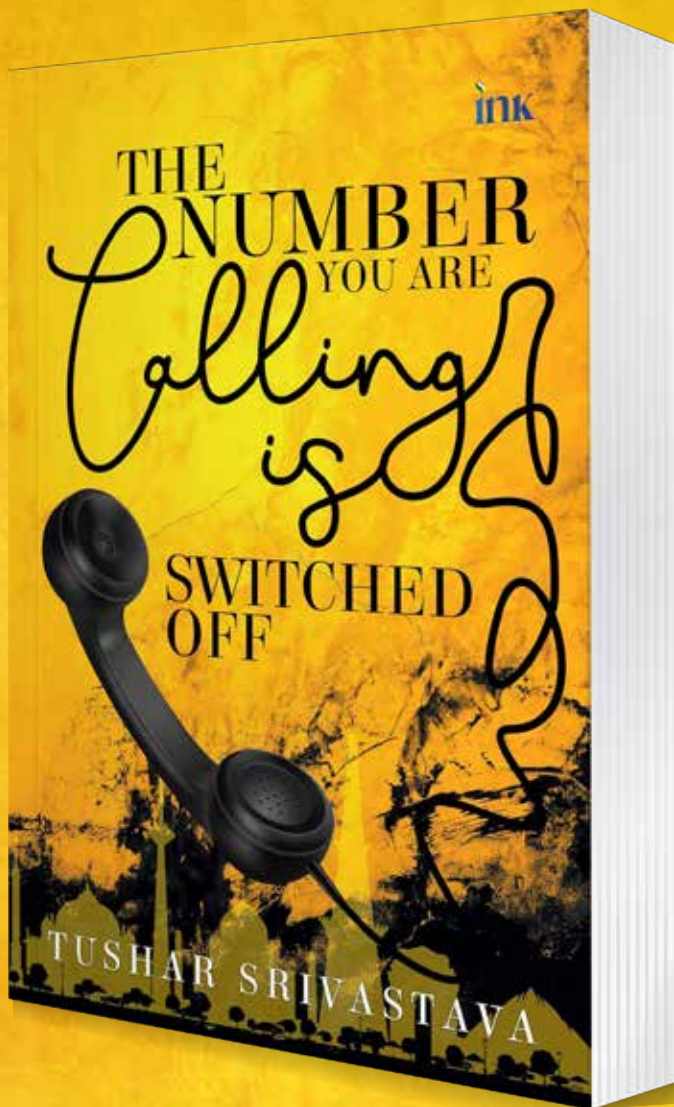

You are still my pride, though you are not by my side.
I still remember your concern for my career.
Look! I have grown up and as you wished sincere!!
There is a lot to talk, I wish you could be there.

Am still in a dream, every moment I feel you near.
I know this loss can never be fulfilled.
I miss you deeply, my heart is pain filled.

Maha Kumbh

A grand confluence

PAMELA MUKHERJEE

Standing at the Triveni Sangam, where the Ganga, Yamuna and the mythical Saraswati unite, Allahabad - now officially Prayagraj - is more than a city. It's a symphony of stories, of emperors, poets, saints, and seekers. And when the Kumbh Mela comes to town, Allahabad morphs into the epicentre of faith and festivity, a phenomenon that defies description.

SPICEJET FLIES DIRECTLY TO PRAYAGRAJ FROM DELHI, BENGALURU,
AHMEDABAD, JAIPUR
AND MUMBAI

The renaming of Allahabad to Prayagraj in 2018 underscored its spiritual significance. 'Prayagraj' translates to 'King of All Pilgrimages,' a fitting title for a place that hosts the sacred Sangam. The name change aims to reconnect the city to its ancient roots, highlighting its pivotal role in Hindu mythology and culture. But, whether you call it Allahabad or Prayagraj, the essence of this city remains unaltered - a confluence of history, faith, and heritage. For centuries, this cultural and spiritual hub has drawn pilgrims, wanderers and dreamers, all eager to lose themselves in its unfading aura.

The Mega Mela

However, what truly defines Prayagraj on the world map is the Kumbh Mela. Every 12 years, this festival transforms the city into a pulsating canvas of humanity. Pilgrims by the millions, draped in vibrant hues, throng to the sacred Sangam. They come to wash away sins in the icy embrace of the rivers, seeking moksha under the gaze of saffron-clad sadhus and their age-old wisdom. The Kumbh isn't just a religious affair; it's a cultural spectacle. Imagine wandering through sprawling tent cities, stumbling upon akharas where ascetics debate philosophy, and catching glimpses of Naga sadhus meditating by roaring bonfires. It's chaos and serenity, ancient and alive.

Walking Through the Ages

Prayagraj is a historian's delight, and you can begin your tour at the Allahabad Fort, a Mughal masterpiece built by Akbar. Beyond its mighty walls lies the Akshaya Vat, the 'immortal' banyan tree, and the Patalpuri Temple, which seems to echo with whispers from the myths. To experience a slice of India's independence struggle, head to Anand Bhavan. Once home to the Nehru family, its walls bear silent witness to pivotal moments in the nation's freedom movement. The adjoining Swaraj Bhavan, Indira Gandhi's birthplace, completes this journey through India's political history. Also, don't skip Khusro Bagh, a Mughal garden brimming with serene tombs and a centuries-old grandeur. It's an oasis of calm amidst the flurry of the city.

Allahabad's charm lies in its unhurried pace. Dive into the Chowk area for intricate zari work, handcrafted

What Not to Miss

Shahi Snan: Witness the ceremonial dip of saints, a parade of divine opulence. On these dates, the Sangam bursts into life with millions of devotees taking the holy dip, making it an unforgettable experience.

Evening Aarti at Sangam: A spiritual symphony of chants, fire, and water Spiritual Camps: From yoga sessions to philosophical discourses, there's enlightenment waiting at every corner.

Endorsing the Vastu Shanka Yantra is industrialist Sushil from New Delhi. He says, "My son and I are running a factory but were not getting the desired results. We came to know about Vimalji and Vikasji through one of their articles in inflight magazines. Upon showing them the factory, we immediately realised our north was blocked and all the heavy machinery was placed along the north wall. With mist-covered mountains, gushing waterfalls, verdant landscapes, and clean air, this small town in Sikkim draws attention to its pristine beauty. A popular destination, Pakyong is the Northeast's first greenfield airport, set atop a hill 4,500ft above sea level. The 1.70km runway sits amid beautiful deep valleys, and the drive into town along serpentine roads reveals stunning vistas like none other.

SERENITY IN RUMTEK

A half-hour drive through Sikkimese hamlets and paddy fields leads to Rumtek Monastery, one of the key Kagyupa monasteries in East Sikkim. Resplendent in bright colours, Rumtek includes a temple and monks' quarters that enclose a capacious stone courtyard, where ritual dances are held on significant dates in the Tibetan Buddhist calendar. Admire the fine craftsmanship in the intricate and vivid painting on the woodwork; in the sacred yet vibrant thangkas; and in the colourful hand-stitched wall hangings. Don't forget to perform the kora (circumambulation) around the 13ft

BEAUTY OF BAR CHANGAY

Located amidst an abundance of greenery in the pretty village of Martam, the waterfall at Bar Changay presents a sensory experience. GO LOCAL FOR LUNCH

Fresh flavours grab the spotlight at Mynt, the all-day diner at Vivanta Pakyong. Be it the delectably fiery Jhol Momo, the gujiya-like Phaley – stuffed with seasoned meat and cabbage and then pan/deep fried – or the Tingmo, spongy and savoury steamed buns, all are best enjoyed with Sepen, the Tibetan hot sauce. Don't miss the Sel Roti, a traditional rice-flour doughnut, and the trout curry, made from fresh river fish.

SCIENCE MADE FUN

Set up in Marchak village in 2008, Sikkim Science Centre draws locals and tourists keen to know more about science and technology, but in a fun way. The main galleries here have interesting interactive exhibits: Unique Humankind reveals how distinct we are from other life forms, while Taramandal, the domed planetarium, provides an introduction to positional astronomy. Families will especially enjoy the space, incorporating as it does an activity corner offering puzzles and science kits for children, a science park with specially designed exhibits set amid natural surroundings, and regular seminars, camps and fairs.

5:00 PM

AFTERNOON TEA AT SARAMSA

Nestled between the mountains of Gangtok and Pakyong, the verdant Saramsa Garden is a recreational public space that's extremely popular with locals and tourists. Established in 1922 by a forest manager (to grow fruits for colonial officers), the garden soon became a site for the cultivation of ipecacuanha, a medicinal plant that also bestowed the name Ipecac Garden (by which it is also known).

The planting of ipecacuanha was discontinued in 1970 but Saramsa has since been transformed into one of the most beautiful gardens in Sikkim, also embracing an orchidarium bursting with variety, colour and life.

CULINARY HIGH AT SKY HIGH

Serving local and international cuisines, this rooftop bar and restaurant offers some of the best food in Pakyong. The warm, welcoming ambience is set off by the picturesque panorama of the hills – could there be a better place for a leisurely meal? With a spread of steaming sizzlers, momos and noodles, comforting soups, pasta dishes and Indian options too, no one will ever go hungry here •

WHEN TO VISIT

November to February – winters may be cold but there's no better time to gaze upon the deep valleys and snow-topped peaks that encircle Pakyong. Avoid the monsoon months, when landslides are common.

WHERE TO STAY

For a high-end holiday, there's Vivanta Sikkim. Other options include The Avenue, Saramsa Resort, and Terrace Valley. Budget travellers can consider LungZhong Retreat Silk Route, Hotel Dragonfly, and Nirvana Inn.

WHAT TO EAT

Momos and Thukpa are ubiquitous, but make time for Sikkimese flavours. These include Dal-Bhaat with sides like Gundruk, a preparation of fermented leafy greens, and Kinema, a dish made from fermented soya beans. Relish Masauyra Curry, cooked with fermented black gram, with Kodo ko Roti or Dhindo, a millet-based rice alternative. Thenthuk, a Tibetan noodle soup, makes for a filling dinner.

TRENDS YOU CAN'T MISS IN 2025

NIVI SHRIVASTAVA

For a brand New Year, a kaleidoscope of upscale trends is set to redefine wardrobes across runways and streets alike. Here are the top ten key trends that are set to dominate the fashion and luxury space in 2025.

BOHO CHIC

A subtle, modern twist to the spring favourite, 'Boho chic' will be charming consumers again. Evolving with understated tones and 'new neutrals' like sage green, butter yellow, and lemon are expected to replace the classic beige and off-whites, reflecting a shift towards refined minimalism. Tailored blazers, sportswear sets, and overcoats are embracing this aesthetic, bridging casual comfort with boho sophistication.

SPORTS LUXE

From courts to catwalks, 2024's blockbuster sporting events have spurred a deeper integration of sports aesthetics into high fashion. Designers are drawing inspiration from tennis, football, and even yoga, creating sleek, sporty designs with a luxurious touch. Expect matching athleisure sets, colour-blocked activewear, and even sport-inspired accessories to remain in vogue. The charm of sporty fashion blended with a refined and quiet luxury aesthetic will be a trend to watch out for in the year 2025.

PEARL RESURGENCE

Pearls are no longer just an accessory - they've become an integral part of design. Drawing from India's royal heritage and modern influences like Bridgerton, pearls are gracing everything from couture gowns to everyday blouses. Layered pearl chokers, pearl-embellished blazers, and mesh dresses infused with pearl accents are transforming this classic gem into a contemporary must-have. Even for Indian fashion lovers, a sari-blouse combination with pearl details will be a huge hit.

SHIMMERING STATEMENTS

The era of sparkle is expected to return with a bling in 2025. The 'shimmery little dress' is making a dazzling comeback, inspired by the high-energy disco era. Luminous fabrics, sequins, and metallic threads dominate this trend, offering a youthful, luxurious vibe perfect for night-outs and glamorous events. Celebrities and social-media influencers are driving this trend, ensuring its place in the spotlight.

PUFFBALL SILHOUETTES

The playful elegance of bubble hemlines and ruffled skirts is expected to make a strong comeback in 2025. Thanks to the influence of designers like Christopher Esber and Miu Miu, the ruffled trend inspired by the voluminous designs of the early 2010s, is being reimagined with a contemporary edge. For Gen Z, these mini ruffled dresses and skirts can be styled with sporty items like football jerseys or baby tees. This mix of drama and casual flair, reflecting a new-age aesthetic of blending opposites, will be big.

SUEDE REVIVAL

For those who love elegant textures and a smooth matte finish, the Western and boho trends have reignited the love for suede, a fabric synonymous with earthy elegance. From buttery-soft jackets to fringed bags and boots, suede will dominate accessories and outerwear. Earth tones such as caramel, sage, and muted yellows will accompany this resurgence, making it a staple for SS25. A distant cousin of suede, faux leather with innovations in vegan and plant-based leather, will also see a surge this year.

ANIMAL INSTINCTS

Animal prints remain a cornerstone of SS25, but with a twist. Leopard and snakeskin prints are expanding to accessories and footwear, while zebra stripes and cowhide patterns are gaining traction, reflecting the continued fascination with Western aesthetics. Designers have diversified these prints to create fresh, daring looks for 2025. For those who love drama and a maximalist approach to fashion, the AI-generated animal prints will be taking centrestage in 2025.

MINI BAGS WITH BIG IMPACT

Minaudières and micro bags are redefining accessories for 2025. From pearl-laden potlis to crystal-encrusted clutches, these intricate designs are as functional as they are statement-making. Vibrant colours, glittering embellishments, and quirky shapes capture the spirit of youthful exuberance while maintaining luxury's timeless appeal. The year 2025 will be all about bold, luxurious designs that will showcase confidence and optimism.

BUTTER YELLOWS AND SAGE GREENS

After the bold reds and Barbie pinks of 2024, softer hues will dominate 2025. Butter yellow and sage green, seen in collections from Gucci and Stella McCartney, offer a refreshing palette that blends effortlessly into tailoring, casual wear, and even evening ensembles. These shades reflect a pivot towards calm, soothing aesthetics amidst fast-paced fashion cycles. For FW25, emerald green will continue to reign as a winter favourite, embodying richness and timeless allure. If quiet luxury is on your mind, include Mocha Mousse (Pantone shade for 2025) in your wardrobe for a timeless charm and chic aesthetic.

RISE OF INDIAN REPRESENTATION IN LUXURY

Global luxury brands are increasingly turning to Bollywood for representation. Stars like Sonam Kapoor, Deepika Padukone, Alia Bhatt, and Priyanka Chopra are now the faces of iconic labels like Dior, Louis Vuitton, Gucci, and Bulgari, respectively. These collaborations are highlighting the global influence of Indian fashion and its symbiotic relationship with Western luxury. With brands like Armani Beauty, Diptyque Paris, Aquazzura and others entering the Indian market with their flagship stores in 2024, the next year is expected to be even bigger for luxury consumers ●

NORTH AND SOUTH IN MY KITCHEN

SADAF HUSSAIN

Growing up, I always thought the heart of every kitchen was the masala dani, or spice box—the unassuming, often round steel container with tiny little boxes. It was a constant in my life, no matter where I travelled or whom I visited. But it wasn't until I began exploring India in earnest, moving from the mustard fields of the North to the greenery of the South, that I realised spice boxes were more than containers. They were maps of the land, encompassing history, geography and culture.

In the North, the spice box spoke of warmth. It carried the earthy tones of cumin, coriander, and fennel—spices that felt like a winter hug. Cumin seeds, with their nutty aroma, were everywhere—from the tadka sizzling in mustard oil to chatpata street chaat, and as a garnish. North India's spice palette often revolved around 'garam masala,' a blend of warming spices like cinnamon, cardamom, cloves, and black pepper. Even today, I can't smell a pinch of freshly ground garam masala without being transported back to winters in Delhi, where piping hot Nihari were served with an unforgettable fragrance of this "secret spice."

The South, on the other hand, was a revelation. Here, the spice box was brighter and very flamboyant. Instead of cumin and fennel, it celebrated the sharp tang of tamarind, the vibrant heat of dried red chillies, and the gorgeous aroma of curry leaves. When I first experienced the ritual of making sambar in Tamil Nadu, I was awestruck. The spice box came alive in the process, its contents transforming lentils, vegetables and tamarind into a dish so complex that every spoonful told a story.

The differences in these spice boxes are more than just culinary—they are cultural, historical, and geographical. The North's reliance on warming spices reflects its cooler climate and centuries of influence from Persian and Central Asian cuisines. When Mughal emperors inspired the use of a combination of spices to North India, they also introduced a new style of cooking, where spices were layered delicately to create aromatic, indulgent dishes. Biryani, often laced with saffron, and the creamy richness of korma, owe their existence to this fusion.

The South, by contrast, tells a story of maritime trade and tropical abundance. Centuries before Vasco da Gama set foot in Kerala, the South was already a bustling hub of the spice trade, exporting black pepper, turmeric and cardamom to ancient Rome and beyond. Pepper, often called "black gold," was a currency of its own. I learned this standing in a pepper plantation in Kerala, inhaling the heady scent of freshly plucked peppercorns. It's no wonder this tiny spice became a cornerstone of the region's cuisine, finding its way into everything from fiery curries to soothing rasam.

Traveling further, the contrasts became even sharper. In Rajasthan, for instance, the arid landscape dictated the use of dried spices and long-lasting condiments. Red chillies were king here, their fiery punch adding life to the simplest of dishes, like lal maas. Contrast this with Karnataka's Udipi cuisine, where coconut reigned supreme, paired with fragrant curry leaves and mustard seeds that crackled in hot oil like little fireworks. The balance between heat and sweetness in a simple preparation of coconut chutney felt like poetry on my tongue.

One of my fondest memories is of a visit to an old spice market in Hyderabad. The air was thick with the mingling scents of dried chillies, cinnamon, and asafoetida. Amid this sensory overload, I found myself reflecting on how spices have always been markers of identity, bridging regions while celebrating their uniqueness. The Arabs may have brought saffron to the North, but the South embraced it just as fervently, weaving it into their payasams and desserts.

As I sit here today, staring at my own spice box, I realise how much it reflects my journey. It's no longer distinctly "North" or "South"—it's a blend, much like India itself. There's the dried mint my mother uses in her chhole and the podi masala my Kerala friend introduced me to; there's the flamboyant fennel my Lucknow friend loved and the sharp mustard seeds that sizzle in my sambar.

Each time I cook, I'm reminded of how spices transcend geography and history. They're not just ingredients; they're memories, stories, and connections. Whether it's the bold warmth of Rogan Josh or the tangy vibrancy of Gongura Pachadi, each spice carries the soul of a place, inviting us to savour not just the food but the journey it represents •

GUKESH

THE NEW CHESS KING

FLORINA SOREN

At 18, Gukesh Dommaraju is the reigning World Chess Champion, an icon, an inspiration. Chennai-born Gukesh crafted history on 12 December 2024, when he became the youngest ever World Chess Champion. In a high-octane 14-game match with defending champion Ding Liren from China, Gukesh claimed the title with a final score of 7.5-6.5. Urging youngsters to follow their passion, Gukesh believes Hardwork, Discipline and Passion is what it takes to reach the top. SpiceRoute caught up with the reigning star, even as the image of Gukesh, smilingly holding aloft the trophy, continues to remain fresh in everyone's memory.

Even before you could cross your teens, you are at the pinnacle of every sportsperson's dream. How does that feel?

It obviously is amazing to be the youngest ever World Champion but it's also the beginning.

I will continue to strive hard to improve, and be the best and stay at the top for as long as possible

I am sure it has been a long journey filled with hard work, planning and training. However, when exactly did you start training for the World Championship matches, and what were the key factors while deciding on your core team?

As soon as I won the FIDE Candidates in April 2024, we started to finalise the team and started working towards the World championship. The core team that helped me in the Candidates continued to work for the match, and added a couple more players who are very strong and generally friendly. The aim was always to have positive people to keep team bonding; opponents who are not just hard-working but also fun to be with.

At that stage, I was a bit worried with just two games left, but luckily the rest day helped me re-strategise and I played the last games really well. Finally, in the last match after a long fight, when Ding blundered with Rf2, I knew it was time to shut down the match and become the World Champion.

How did you get initiated into taking up chess as a career?

I was passionate about chess from a very young age and my parents allowed me to pursue playing without any pressure.

Any other sports that you play?

I generally like playing most racket sports and preferences keep changing from time to time. I keep switching between tennis, pickleball, padel tennis, and currently I am more into squash.

Where do you see yourself in the next 3-5 years? What is your next goal?

As I mentioned earlier, I just want to improve and be the best and stay at the top for a long time.

Who is your favourite practice opponent? Anyone from India too?

I generally played training games with GM Jan-Krzysztof Duda from Poland. Among Indian players, I mostly practiced with Indian GM Harikrishna, and enjoyed and learnt a lot from them both.

You have set a new benchmark for Indian Chess, where do you see our players in the global chess ecosystem?

In Indian chess, we have strong youngsters all of similar strength and we motivate each other with our success. The healthy rivalry that we all have between us augurs well for the future of Indian chess.

At an age when many teenagers are still figuring out what to do in their lives, your message to the youth of India.

I would like to tell them - follow your passion, work really hard, be disciplined, and enjoy the process towards reaching your goals. ●

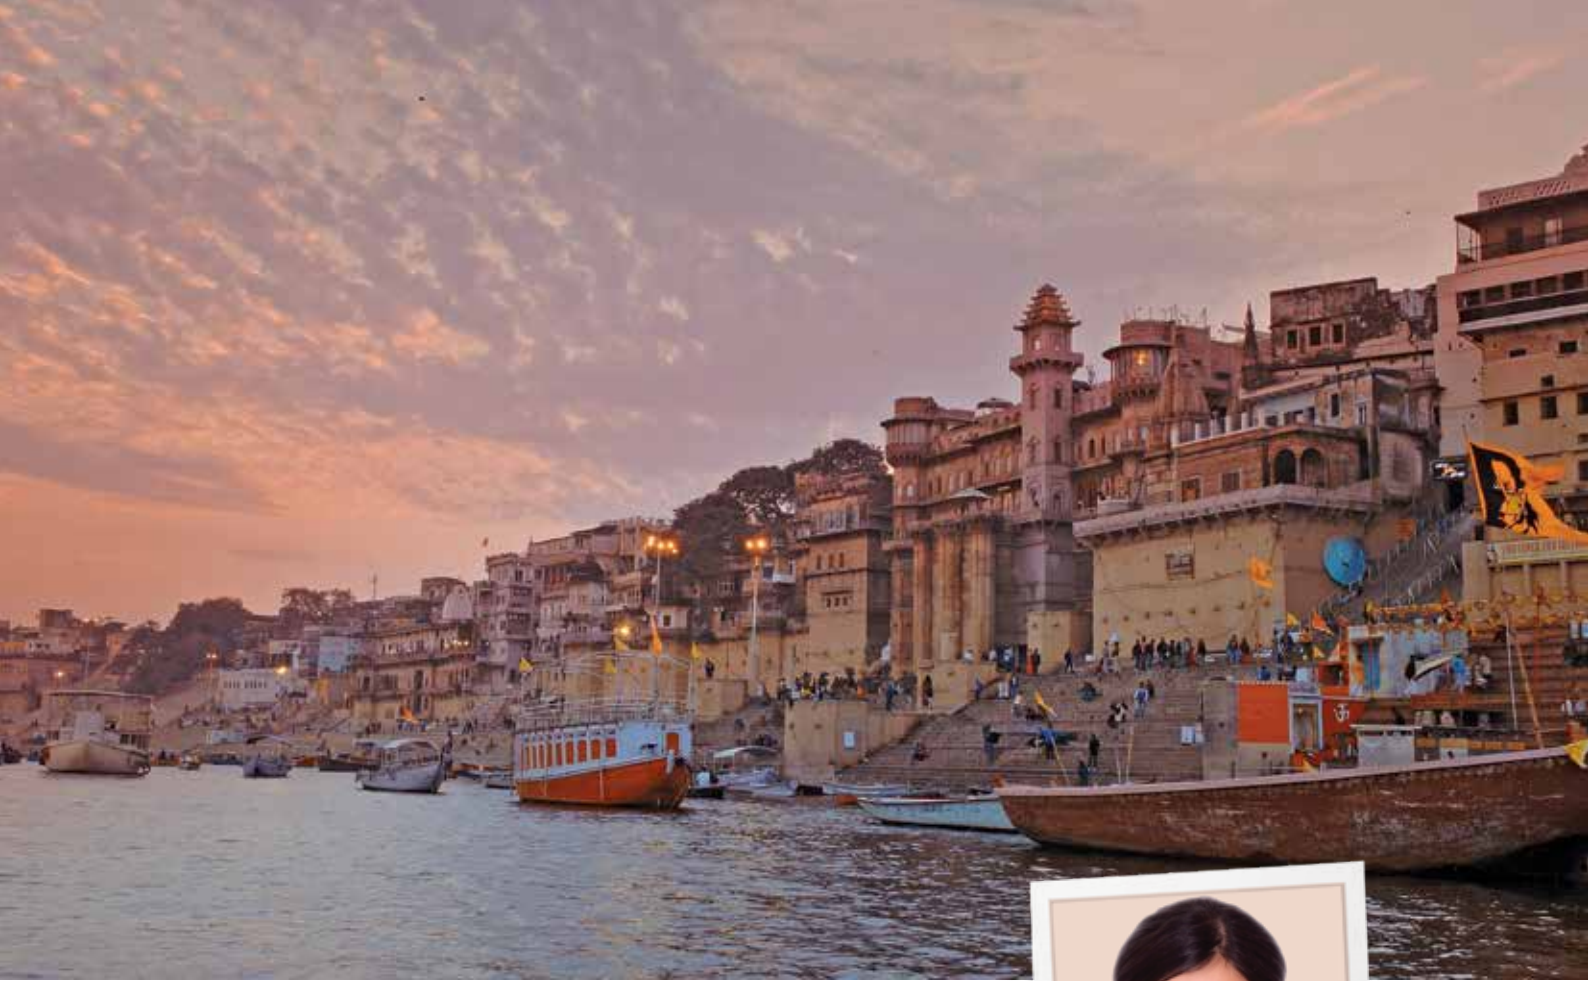

What are the three top attributes that led you to such an amazing victory?

Hardwork, Discipline and Passion for the game

In the historic match with Ding Liren, what was the toughest round for you, and when did you realise that you were going to win it?

I would say the toughest was the 12th round, where Ding completely outplayed me with powerful moves.

My Town

In our series, we travel to various Indian destinations with a SpiceJet family member. This time, Vandana – Senior Cabin Crew – takes us around her home city, Varanasi.

Tell us something about Varanasi that makes it so special?

Varanasi is a city that breathes ancient tales. It is older than tradition, perhaps older than history itself. A city with many names: Varanasi, Kashi, and my personal favourite, Banaras. What makes my city a wonder is the belief that it is the sacred abode of Lord Shiva, a place where the evenings come magically alive with the Ganga Aarti, which enchants every soul.

One thing about your hometown that keeps you coming back?

Banaras Ghat, my sanctuary. If you ever seek inner peace and true happiness, come to witness the awe-inspiring Ganga Aarti ceremony, where the air hums with devotion and the river itself seems to breathe with life.

Wander along the ghats, and explore the narrow, colourful streets, where every corner tells a story, each more captivating than the last. I may be alive, but I only truly come to life when I am in my city. In Banaras, I am not just living; I am part of something eternal, something sacred, woven into the very fabric of time and space. The city's pulse matches my own, and in its embrace, I find my deepest peace.

What is the best way to experience Varanasi?

The first must-do experience is a serene boat ride on the Ganges at sunrise, savouring sips of refreshing lemon tea. Start your day with a filling breakfast of soft 'idlis' with coconut chutney, or the iconic 'Kachoris' of Banaras. Seek blessings at the revered Kashi Vishwanath Temple, dedicated to Lord

MS. VANDANA KORI
SENIOR CABIN CREW

Shiva, and explore the vibrant bazaars for exquisite Banarasi silk.

Name a restaurant you would recommend to a visitor, and a not-to-miss delicacy on the menu?

For an authentic desi, hot and spicy culinary experience, visit Baati Chokha restaurant and savour their signature Baati Chokha Thali. For a cosy ambience and delicious food, don't miss the hidden gem Roma Café (their lasagna is a personal favourite). Varanasi is equally celebrated for its vibrant street food, with its array of must-try delights. Enjoy the flavoursome Kachori Sabzi from Ram Bhandar, and sip on refreshing Thandai, or the unique Bhaang Wali

Thandai. The tangy Tamatar Chaat, crispy Golgappe, sweet-and-savoury Dahi Jalebi, and thick, refreshing Lassi are crowd pleasers. Also, don't miss Banaras ki Chai, whether it's the earthy 'kulhad wali chai' or the zesty lemon tea from Lakshmi Chai Wala. And cap off your culinary journey with the iconic Banarasi Paan. Temple, known as the 'Kotwal of Kashi' for the protective blessings it offers. Republic Day

Republic Day is an annual national holiday in India, celebrated on January 26 to mark the adoption of the Constitution on the same day in 1950, and also the country's transition to a republic. Approved by the Constituent Assembly on November 26, 1949, the Constitution came into effect exactly two months later.

Republic Day is commonly associated with parades and speeches, and cultural ceremonies and programs, alongside events both public and private commemorating the history and traditions of India. But it's the march-past that is the day's standout feature. Beginning with the unfurling of the Tricolor by the President – a ceremony that is replicated in states and union territories by, respectively, the governors and lieutenant governors – the march-past begins from Vijay Chowk and goes all the way up to Red Fort, via Kartavya Path and India Gate.

On the route can be spotted a number of regiments of the Indian Army, Navy and Air Force, alongside their bands, as well as tableaux of Indian states displaying their cultures. The celebrations continue for three days, and conclude with the Beating Retreat ceremony, conducted at sundown at Vijay Chowk on January 29. This official end of Republic Day features performances by the bands of each wing of India's forces •

One usually guards themselves because we have all heard a lot about disappoint and delays, sorrows and hardships of 4 & 8 and with 7 they form a trio of these energies. But I see them powerful steroids, to be handled carefully. Then I will channelize it to positive planning and maximise your fortune's profits. Feel blessed if you belong to them, we will empower your life and, learn through 4 & 8 reap more fruits of your hard work than you would have previously did.

Other big influential nos.

Individually every number has its massive merits but if it doesn't get the support of your fadic/destiny number it can not do much for you. 1.9.5 & 3 are very powerful numbers and should get magnanimous success as per individual calculations, but if you are still struggling and have faced certain problems you should try understand your state of energies and detangle the web, to create free path for your future. "A bright star has its own energy, bus lighting a lamp in the dark is much more meaningful." We all are a mix of many numbers, their combinations play us differently and affects us differently. We have to empower these combinations in our fortune, to achieve what is extraordinary, which makes us exemplary individuals, that help themselves and in addition help their families, society, help someone In need who looks unto you.

Get going with my success road

"Knowledge empowers you, and there is nothing more powerful than to understand yourself, your potentials, what holds you back, what drives you forward." I provide you this knowledge about yourself, though numerology. There is a Buddhist saying. "You yourself must strive; the Buddha's just point the way." If you believe in yourself and the universe let me just show you a direction, you yourself will lead on the right path and achieve the results within no desired time. I have received tremendous positive feedbacks to have faith in the universe myself.
